Final Formal Essay
Critical Analysis Paper Outline

Congratulations, the semester is almost over!

The final question before you is this:

What are the challenges we face as a global world system on a finite planet? What modifications in capitalism might make the system more sustainable?

In order to answer the above question, think about the following:

1. What are the characteristics that are unique to the tribal world, imperial world and the commercial world? See text page 24, table 2.5.
2. What can some small nations teach us? See chapter 14, text.
3. Is there a way to take the best of all three worlds and develop and create a new world system? See chapter 14, text.

In a short, typed two page concise critical analysis, please address the above question and present your viewpoint.

Please note: It is not necessary to do any outside research to answer the question, should you incorporate any information from a website or any outside source, you must paraphrase it and cite the website, to not do so is considered plagiarism and is in direct conflict with the Harper Honesty Policy.

Best wishes and continued academic success!
